The Headway Headway series has made an important contribution to the teaching of the English language for more than 30 years. The Headway series has always advocated a mix of methodologies: Â”traditional methodology: a grammatical curriculum with controlled practice, systematic vocabulary work and reading and writing activitiesÂ”, a more communicative approach: a functional/situational curriculum; personalized practice; work real language in real situations; activities to foster genuine communication inside and outside the classroom; development of the four skills â especially listening and speaking. This combination of approaches has proven to be an excellent combination for learning the English language, and has become a standard for today’s ELT textbooks.
